

Nano Energy Boosters

An energetic approach to better health

The Nano Energy Booster System is the result of twenty years of medical research on how the human body responds to frequency energy. Every booster has been carefully programmed with specific harmonising frequencies that present a field of supportive and restorative energy. Our research has shown this type of energy has been known to restore the body's natural state of balance. With a healthy energy flow, the body system is activated to heal by itself, given time.

Nano Energy Booster (NeB) is a breakthrough for many health challenges. It is a complementary therapy used to assist all other therapies, medications and nutrition, in hastening the healing process. It comes in the form of booster patches and is attached to the skin, delivering healthy energy signatures on a 24-hour, 7-day basis, to activate and restore the body's natural state of balance. There are no side effects as no chemicals enter into the body. It costs only S$1.50 per day per programme with maximum of three programmes daily. Some programmes have effects within days, some on an average of 60 to 120 days depending on the health challenges.

Stress, nutrition and pollution have contributed to the rapid increase in health challenges. Many of the diseases have been traced to the activities of pathogens in our body. Our research has identified the specific digital frequency signature of every virus, bacteria, yeast, parasite, abnormal cell and toxin present in our body. The Nano Energy Booster system changes their frequencies to neutralise their presence, to effectively control the chronic conditions

Circulation Support - We have worked on this programme since 1996, studying people with circulatory problems such as plaques, calcifications, high cholesterol that lead to strokes and heart attacks. It is common to see calcification in the arteries, kidneys, bladder and even aggressively on the teeth. We learned with a group of cardiologists who did bypass surgeries and provided actual arteries with plaque and calcification for our studies. We studied them for three years and established the energetics of circulatory problems. We then created a Circulation booster designed to introduce the energies that will gradually dissolve blockages and calcifications. We have seen decline in plaque and cholesterol after a 90-day programme.

Joint Comfort Support - A lot of research went into this booster. We worked with three different groups with enlarged painful joints. The worst case is rheumatoid arthritis. We also looked at osteoarthritis and osteoporosis. We even had a few people with Pageant's disease. These diseases developed years after they lose the energy in a particular area. We identified very specific energy patterns related to bones, tissue and connective tissue. Even though it is not a product for arthritis, people with arthritis noticed tremendous change when they started using this booster. A 60-day programme may turn around to give them pain relief and hope, and in many cases, the progression of the problem can be really stopped.

33 specific programmes for the body's needs - Programmes cover from acne, allergies, beauty, circulation, colds, detoxification, digestion, energy, eyes, flu, hair restoration, hormonal balance, immune, memory, pain, parasite, scar tissues, sleep, stress, weight management and children's mental focus (autism, ADD, ADHD). We expect millions will be enjoying this newest technology to heal their past and transform their body for the future.
