

Body parts are numbered and wired

Discover how ailments and diseases are tracked and threats removed

By Peter Lim

Many of us know this familiar saying, "But the very hairs of your head are all numbered." We found in our research that our body parts are numbered and "wired". We could track ailments and diseases to their roots and target to remove the threats swiftly without hurting the body.

Lady with nose and lung cancer

A lady in her late 40s came to us to seek help. She had nose cancer nearly four years ago and had chemotherapy and radiation. She relapsed one year later and was operated. Then two years later, she further relapsed with nose and bronchi cancer. She did not reveal her background until we told her after a detailed analysis. She confirmed what we knew and was surprised by our accuracy and the findings of the root causes.

We found she had both cancer and non-cancer tumours in the nose, bronchi, esophagus/vocal cord and breast, totaling about 7 cm. The root causes were identified and traced initially to the autistic virus since birth, creating disorders in the brain and the uterus. The brain disorder could have caused organ dysfunctions to allow pathogens to attack. Epstein Barr Virus was traced to her nose and repeated cancer. Over the years, she built up fungi, bacteria, viruses, allergies and parasites, all high counts to weaken the body. Toxins added by therapy toxins were conducive for pathogens to grow. (Cells have right energy frequencies to live healthy, but once attacked by oxidative stress, toxins and free radicals, their energy gradually declines, turning cells from good to bad). These potentially led to her disorders in her memory, hair, circulation and enzymatic systems, with damaged cells in her brain, colon, lungs, liver and sexual organs.

Root causes must be dealt with

We believe that most tumours have root causes and must first be dealt with. As our body parts are numbered, trace was made to all the hideouts to pluck out the roots for tumours to retreat. Within a space of two months, the tumours shrunk from 7 to 0.7 cm. As part of our ongoing research in the last five years, we sent NeB energy frequencies to "restore" cell energy so that they could become good again. We do not kill nor advocate surgery unless life is really threatened. As our body parts are connected, cutting off one part could potentially de-stabilise and create blockage and dysfunction to another as seen in some cases.

Injuries in motor accident

Impressed by her experience with us, this lady client introduced her friend who met a motor accident during the midst of writing this article. Three people died in said accident. We traced 86 areas of pain, injuries and bone damage in the man's body. Since time was the essence to provide a swift protective shield and healing, we stopped external infections and internal bleeding for swift healing with medical help. Within two days, he was transferred out of ICU, and in three days he was discharged!

NeB meets most challenges including autism

NeB is based on quantum physics with state of the art technologies. Together with wholesome organic food, supplements, herbs, air, water, essential oils and healthy lifestyles, we make recovery a natural difference. The same approach is used to meet major health challenges in the disorders of sleep, brain, heart, skin, bones, eyes, blood, and organ dysfunctions. We helped in many heart and circulatory challenges, including diabetic disorders and autism. Hundreds of children and adults with autism, ADHD and ADD had been helped with good success in removing the virus attacking the brain and the sexual organs, some as swift as three months.

R1H2 virus has been traced to birth in the mother's womb or through sexual partners who are carriers, and affect the next generation without fail. Other types of "autism" are due to pathogenic brain attacks of fungi, bacteria, viruses or parasites, creating "autistic disorders" but do not pass on to future generations. We repair the damaged brain and sexual organs with stem cell energies and help them recover up to 80 to 90% in six to 24 months, for parental and professional interventions on speech and character molding.

Two Americans, mother and adopted-adult daughter, visited us recently. Without telling us, they were very surprised with the accuracy of our reports, tracing to events happened in the early years due to the daughter's autism. She has a total of 6 cm of fibroids, endometriosis and ovary cysts, all potentially linked to her unresolved autistic virus. One mother also just reported on her 16-week pregnancy. She was distressed as the unborn baby has kidney abnormality. She had lost her previous baby. We predicted if this is not dealt with before pregnancy, her child would be affected by the autistic virus.

Our initial analysis is free to all who want to seriously try out NeB therapy. Experience leads to belief.
