

Allergic Disorders!

Allergies could lead to the disorders and inflammation of the brain, eyes, ears, nose, lungs, skin, and abdomen. Allergens come from food, dust, pollen, chemicals or medicines that attack the immune system. In our research here, we realized that many suffer without knowing the root causes. Allergies could lead to fatigue, pain, hyperactivity, mood swings and even irreparable organ damage requiring surgery. Having a suppressed immune system paves the way for pathogenic attacks.

Case Studies

Lung attacks

A lady in her late fifties was coughing helplessly for eight months. Medications and antibiotics seemed to give no help. She had been skeptical about our nano energy boosters, believing only in medications. The long cough could lead to irreparable damage since she came from an asthmatic family. We tested and found she had bacteria, hormone and circulation problems besides allergies that triggered her cough. After applying our energy booster patches, she fully recovered in quick time. Since then, she is a firm believer in the healing power of the patch.

Eye attacks

My eye was recently attacked by flu related allergies. The eye and head were in excruciating pain and red for a week. I suffered from impaired vision that was further aggravated by haze particles. I thought it was due to parasite. But once the allergy and flu energy patches were correctly identified and used to deal with the root causes, the eye started to improve. JoyWater Eye Wash was used, without the use of chemicals. The eye amazingly recovered after a week.

Intestinal attacks

A lady in her mid-fifties had low energy levels in most of her organs. She complained of abdominal pain. While we were determining the causes, she was hospitalised and in two days, part of her small and large intestines were operated on. Unfortunately she did not wait for our report and through our tests, we confirmed that she had allergies that caused the pain. Had she waited for a second opinion, our energy booster patches could help remove the allergies in two months.

A lady in her early sixties complained of low energy and pain discomfort in her head, bones and body. Her sister died due to colon cancer spreading to the ovaries. We found that she had high levels of rheumatoid arthritis and allergies in her intestines and lungs. Within four months, she recovered using our energy booster patches. Our Bone Stem energy patch is currently used to repair the bone damage.

Skin attacks

A lady in her early forties had many health challenges. We found she has mycoplasma mainly in her uterus which was the root cause of her ovarian and breast cysts being operated on. She has lumps at her neck and eczema for twenty years. Within three months, our energy booster patches helped remove the mycoplasma. Then H1N1 attacked her intestines, kidneys and nose, followed by food allergies that caused her skin disorder to flare up causing her to have a swollen face, neck and body. She is undergoing joint medication with our energy booster patches.

In our twenty-years of research in the United States, we identify the energy levels of pathogens, toxins and tumours and innovatively administer the concept of energy booster patches placed on the body on 24/7, to deal with the root causes. It serves as a complementary therapy to all other therapies and helps restore the immune system and harmonise the organ energy levels, for the body to heal by itself. The health challenges are usually dealt with within one to six months
