

The Healing Power of Energy

Best forms of healing are usually the natural ones, Peter Lim of Nature's Glory shares.

Most of the time, medication and chemicals are temporary measures used to subdue discomforts and illnesses. What's more, constant use of medication and chemicals can have adverse effects on our health and immune system.

Thank goodness for Nature's Glory Nano Energy Booster (NeB) systems – because they are more than temporary measures. They help solve the root of health problems.

As Greek scientist Hippocrates once said, "Natural forces within us are the true healers of disease." Those were the exact sentiments shared by Dr. RH when he created the Nano Energy Booster System (NeB) years ago. A natural energy therapy that makes use of five different technologies, NeB has proven itself as a breakthrough for many health challenges.

What is NeB?

NeB stands for Nano Energy Booster. It is a natural energy therapy that makes use of a range of technologies: nano, homeo, aura, quantum and stem cells to boost energy at the cellular level, reducing energy blocks, boosting immune system to neutralise pathogen effects and toxic discharge. It helps to balance and harmonise the organs towards optimal performance. These energies are combined, and used in our NeB magnetic patches. No drugs, herbs, or invasive procedures are used.

How does NeB work?

Over 90 percent of diseases are due to bacteria, fungi, parasites, viruses, allergies or toxins in our bodies, each of which contains very specific digital frequencies. NeB works by changing these frequencies to destabilise and destroy the existence of pathogens with the support of the immune system. One may use up to four NeB patches at the same time, excluding ones you may use externally. For instance, sleep patch could be placed on the pillow.

What are some of the benefits NeB patches pose?

NeB patches do not have any side effects nor introduce any effects of chemicals and medications. There are no known dangers of overdoses and wrong prescriptions. Used as a medical aid kit, NeB could meet 80% of the health challenges in quick time, in colds, flu and viruses, allergies, pain, fatigue, stress and sleep disorders, etc. Convenient with much productive time saved, it controls and minimises the spread of diseases.

What is a typical NeB program treatment like?

The patches are attached to the skin's surface or on to a card, delivering healthy energy signatures on a 24-hour-basis, to activate and restore the body's natural state of balance. They are placed on the left-front or back side of the body, anywhere from shoulder to waist, or at the place of pain and discomfort. Each patch can last up to 3 days, depending on the degree of severity.

Many patients have undergone NeB treatments. Share a success story.

A lady in her mid-thirties had frequent migraines for nearly 20 years. She had sleep disorders, mood swings and depression. She had pain all over. She had urinary tract infection, vaginal itch, monthly colds and a runny nose. Her health affected her family and social life. She gave up her professional career. We found high degree of bacterial attack in her cerebellum, with stress to many organ disorders. Within 4 months of using NeB, she recovered and was back at work.

In more common situations, a hospital staff in her mid-fifties was suffering from persistent cough and had difficulties breathing. We found she had artery blocks and allergies in the lungs and nose. The bacteria attacked her ovaries and uterus, and later developed into fibroids. With help from NeB therapy, she recovered speedily.
