

Understanding Cancer

How It Works and How You Win

By Peter Lim

Root causes

Our research into recovery from cancer has met with many challenges, discoveries and disappointments. It requires a discerning and keen mind to understand cancers that have plagued many people who long for quality of life and health. Many cases that come to us are already in the final stages, with weakened immune system to have a winning fight. In good conscience, no one should regard cancer care as exclusive, but collectively we work to discover and achieve a strategic and holistic answer to benefit mankind.

How Cancer Works

Cancer is the uncontrolled growth of abnormal cells in our body. It is primarily due to emotional instability, nutritional deficiency, environmental toxicity and immobility over a period of time. When immune system is suppressed and compromised, the body gradually fails to respond effectively to pathogenic invasions, leading to toxicity, diseases, tumours and cancer.

Most diseases begin with uncontrolled emotional stress, anxiety and insufficient quality of rest and sleep. These lead to weakened cells, organs and immune system that are susceptible to pathogenic attacks. Nutritional deficiency from poor and unhealthy diet and balance leads to under nourished cells, premature aging and death. Toxicity from environment, water, food, air, stress, chemicals, poor metabolism, bowel irregularities, chemical treatments and lack of water consumed, results in toxic built up and organ failures to cause body energy imbalance. Immobility due to the lack of exercise and failure to clear toxins and from lymphatic system, lead to toxins trapped in the cells.

How Therapies Have Limitations

The conventional ways are usually surgery, chemotherapy and radiotherapy with a quick but temporary fix that usually do not address the root causes. Most cases experience cancer relapse with much gravity in a weakened body. To illustrate this, I have recent cases that could be an eye opener.

A lady had endometriosis in her early adult life. She was operated five times over a period of five years. These weakened her uterus. Ten years later, uterus cancer was operated and spread. Within two years, she had chemo and radiotherapy, removing some lung tumours which further spread to the lungs, liver and the limb. Had she known the root cause of pathogenic attack, she could have been spared. A man had his right breast and arm pit-lymph nodes removed in 2001 with a stage-zero tumour. These affected his bladder meridian point. Bladder cancer was operated seven years later. Chemo treatment was over $200K within two years, and for life. It now spreads to the lungs, liver and bones, with blood disorders.

A lady in her late sixties found she had 4th stage lung cancer and went through chemo. She went to Mexico for natural treatment and later found her cancer spread to the bones, lungs, liver and colon. Her energy level was only 55 per cent when she came.

But after a month, it went up to 85 similar to healthy people. It was same for the second month and her weight was maintained.

Organic food, juicing, coffee enema, water, herbs, supplements, and energy/ exercise therapies have limitations too. Due to much toxicity, most natural therapies take a longer time to heal than the body allows.

How To Win

Cancer requires a timely, strategic and holistic approach. It demands knowledge, vision, discipline and fighting will to address cancer challenges to win it. Cancer is said to take twelve years to mature with the first seven years too minute to be seen by machines. From the eighth year, it becomes clearer and shows up at different times and places. Surgery alone may not be a complete answer.

The root causes must be found before any treatment to prevent a repeat. All cancers have toxins built up. 90 per cent have fasciolopsis buski parasite (large flat worm) that donates toxins to lead to cancer. Some are due to viruses and bacteria. Since some cancer cells still survive after treatments, they could cause a relapse in a weakened body unless toxins and free radicals are timely dealt with.

Dealing with cancer is an art to know its nature so as to win over it. Shift to alkaline condition as it thrives on acidic environment. Strip outer coating of tumour to wake up immune system to attack it. Deprive food to tumour cells for them to die. Detox and remove free radicals to prevent repeated relapses. Increase immune system power to fight back. Don't disturb "bee hives" unless they are life threatening. Surgery alone may cause energy blocks and chain reactions for cancer to resurface. Don't add more toxins unless they are so necessary and remove them in quick time to prevent cell and organ failures.

For us to defeat cancer, it demands a holistic approach with abstention from "forbidden food". Together with stem cell energy healing, the body may achieve the energy and harmony to better its chance of winning. Ignorance is no excuse. Cancer demands both physical and spiritual interventions to cause a potential recovery! Come and visit us!
